Project Title: Huy Fong Sriracha

I'd like to build a site that is divided into different pages with a site navigation at the top, with the main emphasis being on the home page. I'd like to make it like a shopping site, where you can purchase the sriracha, but it would also have other tabs to give more background on what you are purchasing.

- Home Page - Overview of what the sauce is, as well as its composition. Include a large photo of the bottle and a description of its unique flavor. Include an add to cart option.
- History + Pepper Supply (add both categories into one page)
- Production
- Sources
